Start-ups to make exchange debut

A HANDFUL of new companies will list on the Australian Stock Exchange this week.

Diversified South Australian-based investment group E&A, which comprises six companies servicing the mining, resources, water, defence and financial services sectors, will make its first appearance today with a market capitalisation of $56 million.

Perth-based coal company East Energy Resources will list on Wednesday after raising $4.5 million in its initial public offer.

The company, whose operations are focused on Queensland, will have a market capitalisation of more than $22 million upon listing.

Meanwhile, Sydney-based ADV Group will start trading again on the ASX today as Citadel Resource Group.
